

Crossings Community Center & Clinic Host Open House

Center & Clinic kick off “Be Neighborly” initiative to connect with the community

Crossings Community Center and Clinic (10255 N. Pennsylvania Avenue, OKC, OK 73120) will host an Open House on Sunday, September 23 from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. During this come-and-go event, everyone is invited to tour the Crossings Community Center and Clinic, enjoy light refreshments, explore volunteer opportunities, meet the staff, and discover how community partnerships continue to make the Center and Clinic a vital part of the neighborhood.

This event is designed for all ages and will be an excellent time to learn more about Crossings Community Center and Clinic’s vision, mission, and purpose as well as meet crucial leaders and partners in the community. Crossings will also say farewell to Clinic Director, Steve Turner, and welcome Executive Director, Marq Youngblood.

Marq Youngblood joined the Crossings Clinic staff in August 2018 and his passion for patients drives him to excellence in every possible avenue. “I’m thrilled to be a member of the Crossings Community Clinic team,” he says. “The love for each team member and the patients we serve is readily apparent. It’s a tremendous blessing to work every day in an environment of hope based on our faith in God.

Pam Millington, Pastor of Missions at Crossings, further underscores the excitement for the Clinic’s future. “The Crossings Community Center and Clinic have been an important part of this community since 2005 when it was established,” she says. “It offers a place for our neighbors to find a Christ-centered atmosphere provided by volunteers from over 42 churches living out their faith by their willingness to join people at a vulnerable time in their lives. Whether the need is for healthcare, legal assistance, or mentoring of young people, a willing person is here to extend a hand of friendship and hope while sharing the love that only comes from God. It’s been exciting to watch relationships form as people join together to walk out this journey of life.”

Marq Youngblood,
New Executive Director of
Crossings Community Clinic
